Mother's Day

Celebrate Mother's Day (May 12) with three inspiring stories about three strong female leads (aka SFLs!) written by four talented female authors...

Penned by former GL intern Carrie and her mom!

ASK EMMA: FRENEMIES

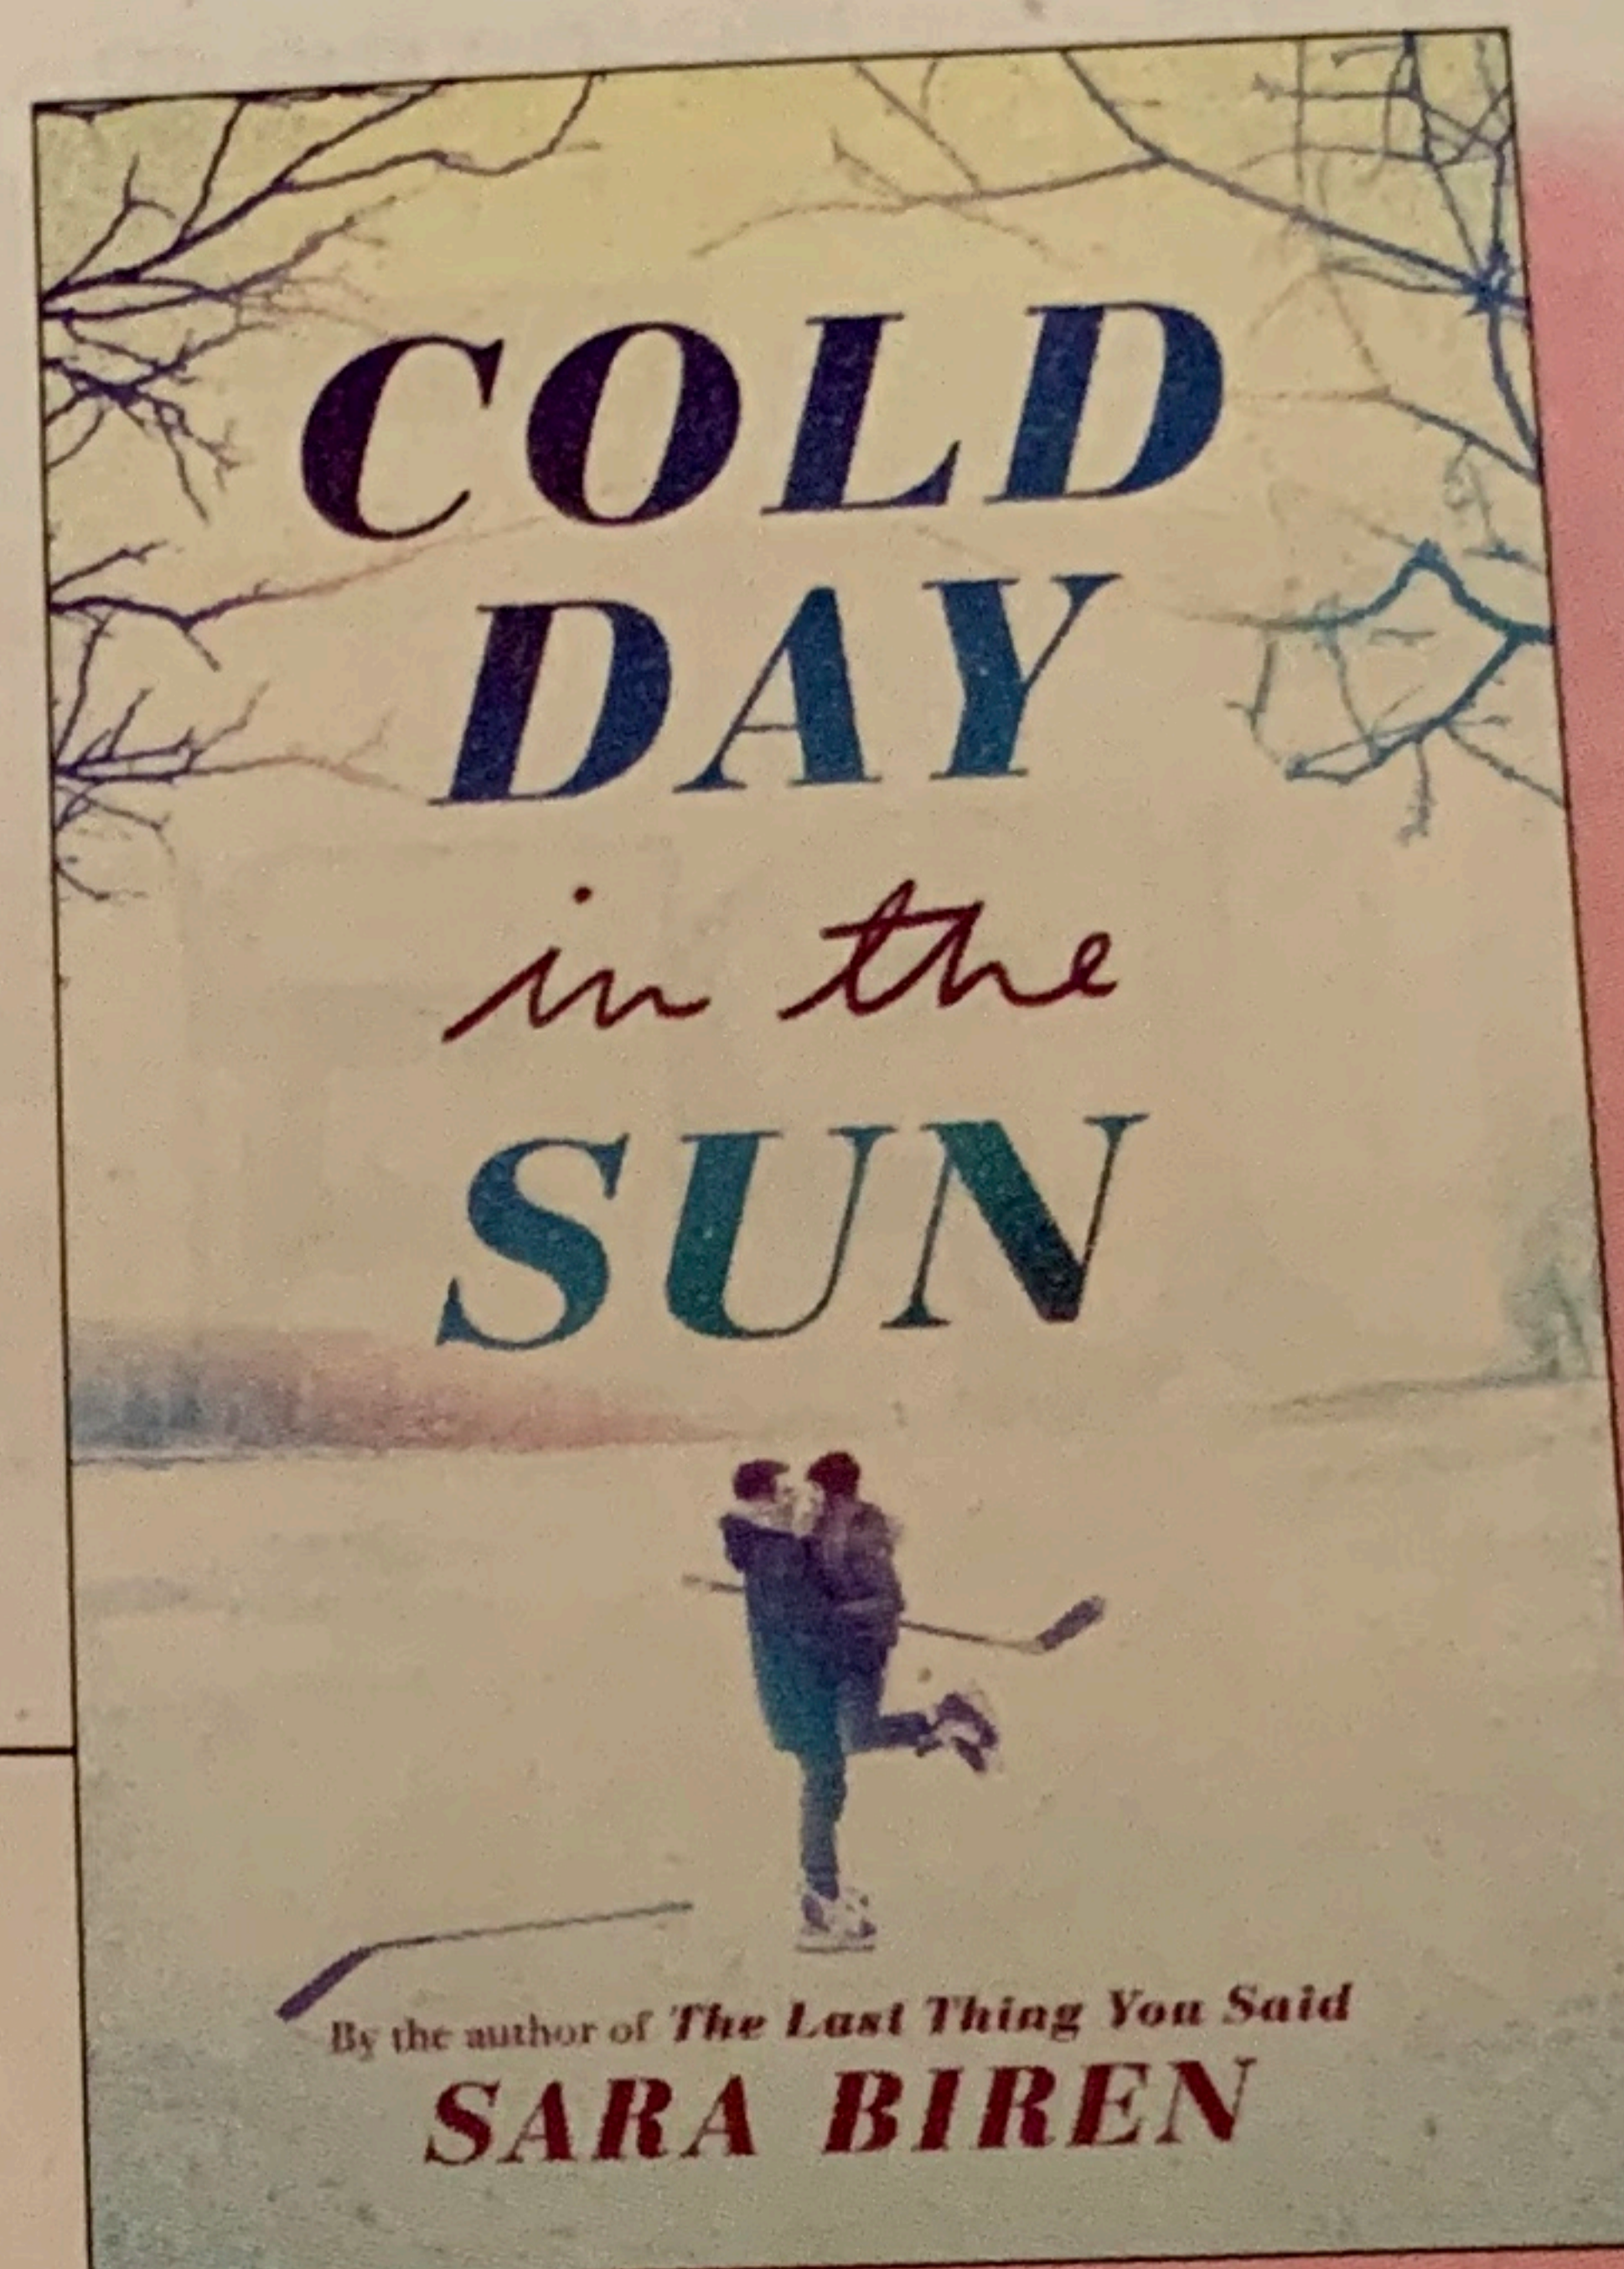

BY SHERYL BERK AND CARRIE BERK

YELLOW JACKET READS, $17

The SFL: Emma Woods

WHY WE ♥ HER: She's not afraid to speak her mind

Advice blogger Emma is known for dishing out words of wisdom to her classmates—that is, until she promises her principal she'll take a hiatus. But when she sets aside blogging, she soon realizes she's the one in need of advice.

COLD DAY IN THE SUN

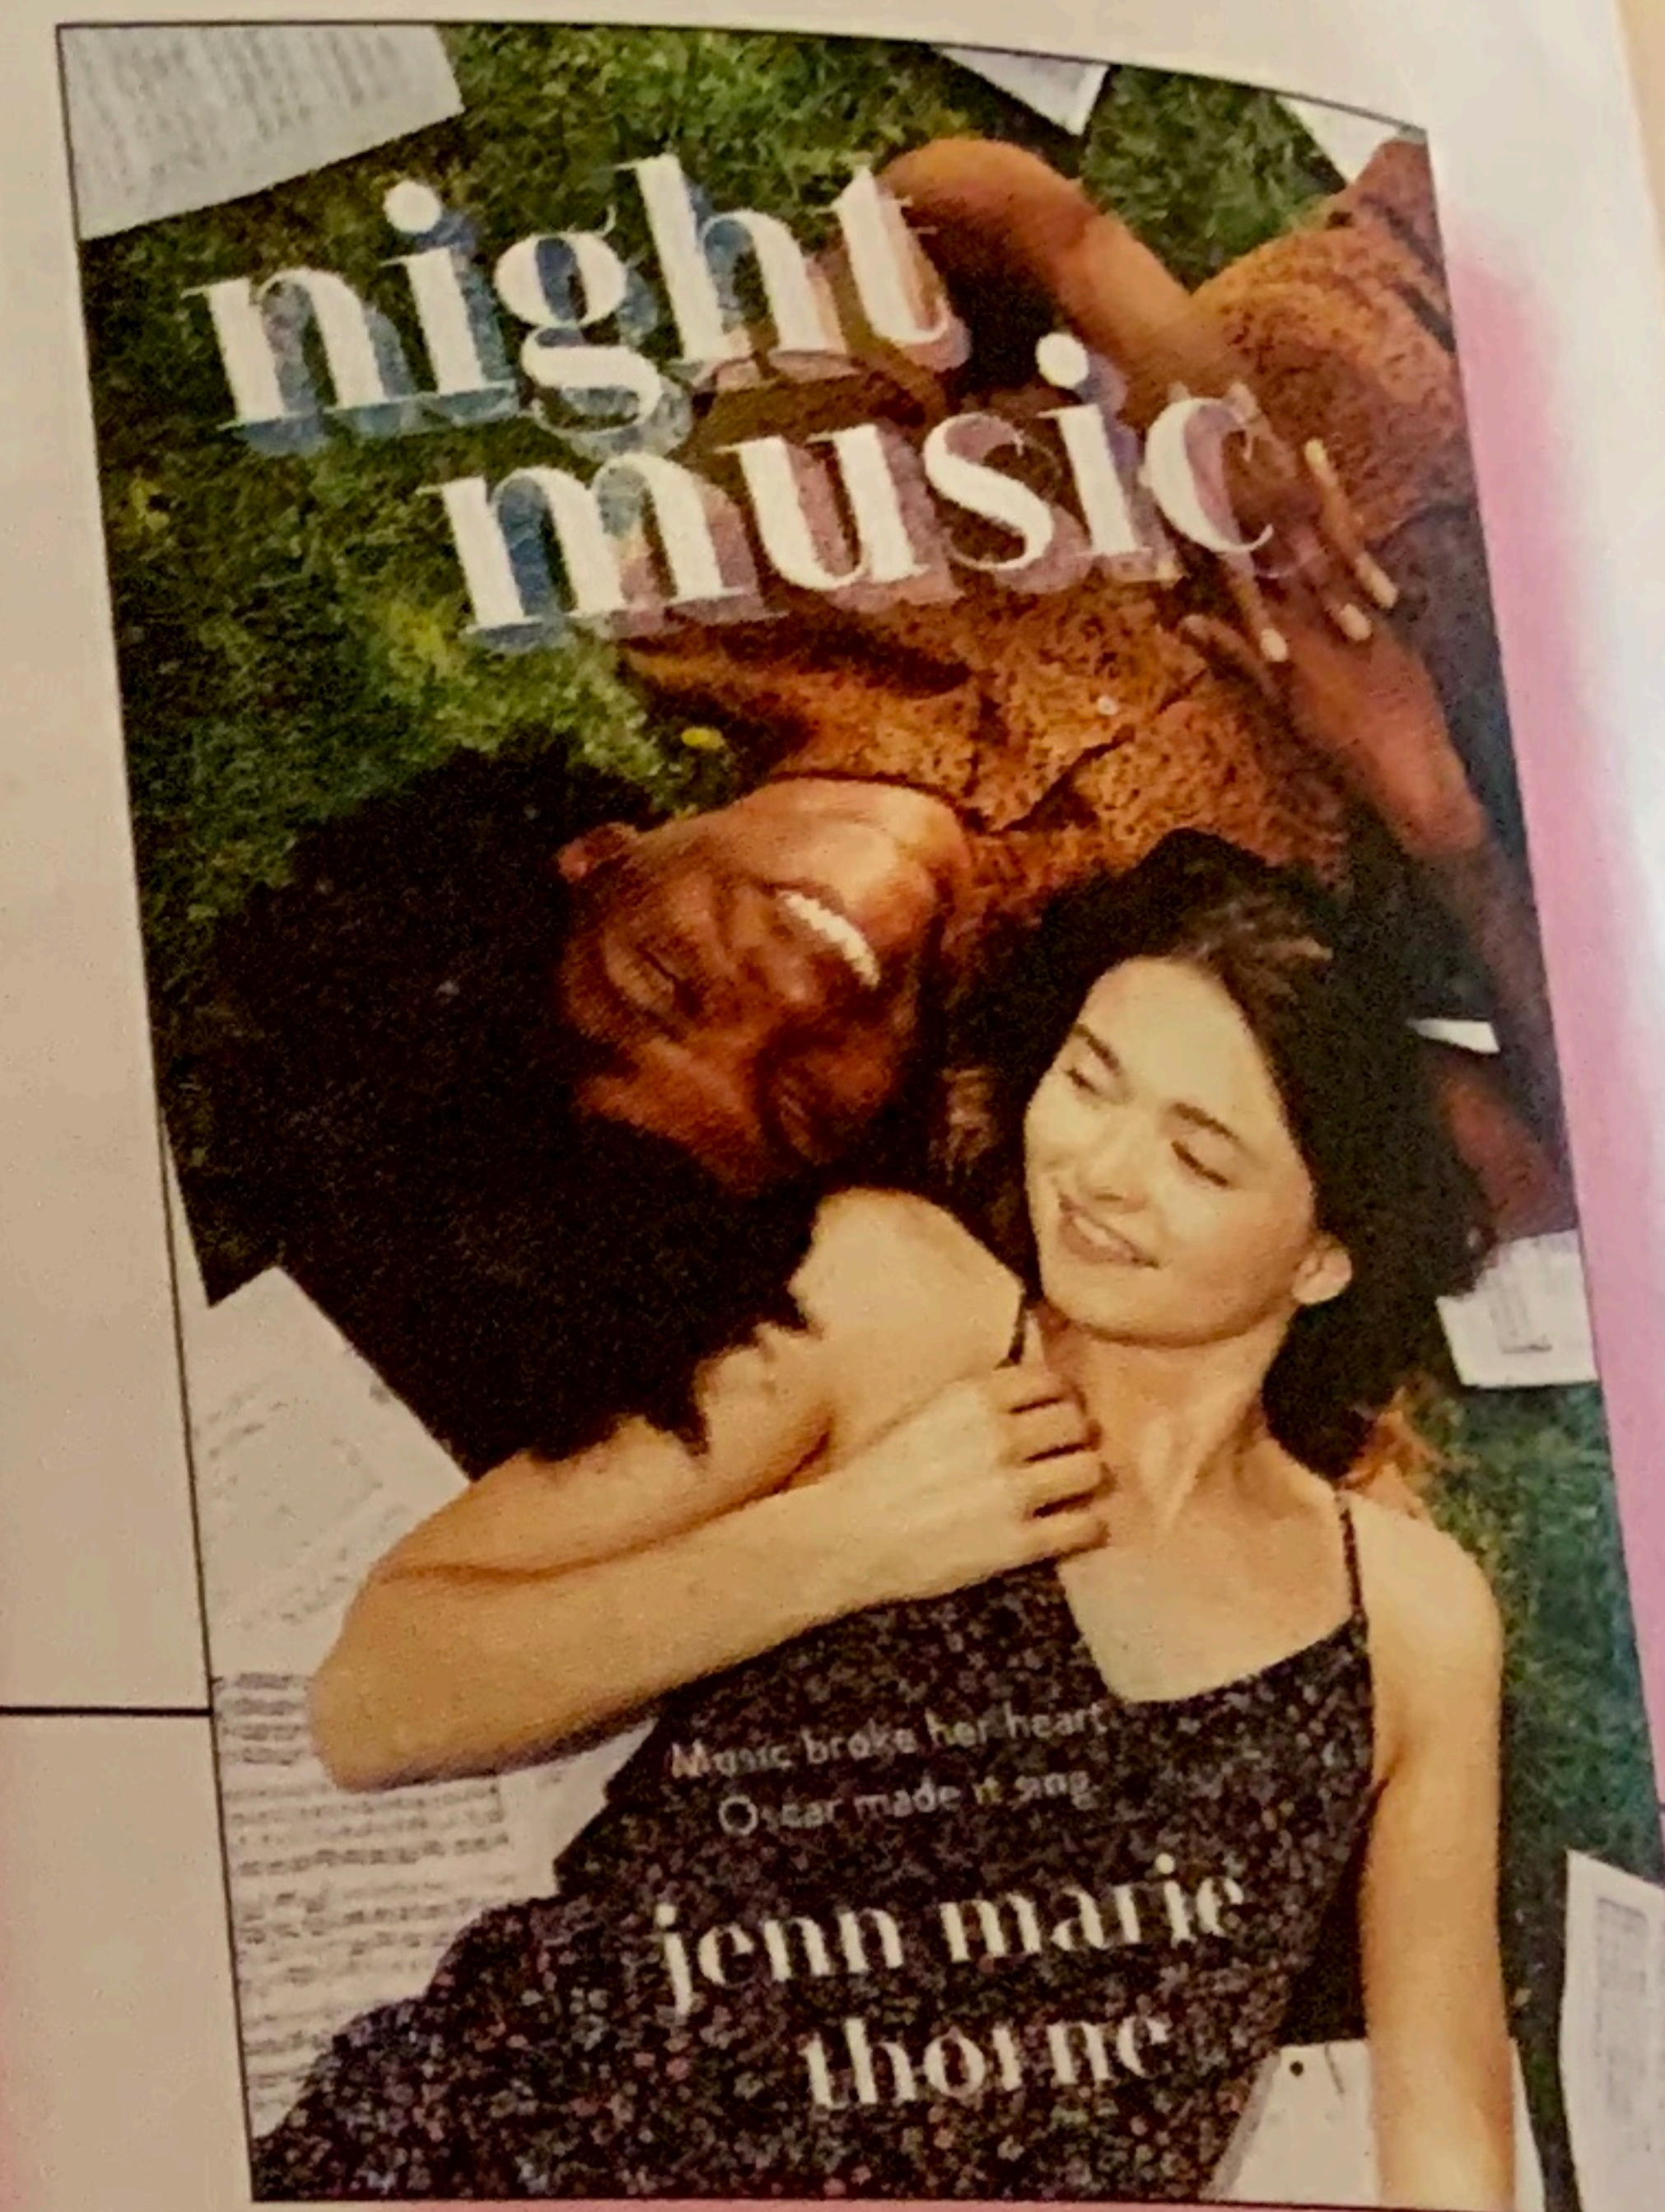

BY SARA BIREN

AMULET BOOKS, $18

The SFL: Holland Delviss

WHY WE ♥ HER: She stands out

Holland is the only girl on the boys' varsity hockey team. When her squad scores some media attention, her gender is all anyone talks about—and Holland finds herself leaning on the last person she ever expected: her team's headstrong co-captain, Wes.

NIGHT MUSIC

BY JENN MARIE THORNE

DIAL BOOKS, $18

The SFL: Ruby Chertok

WHY WE ♥ HER: She knows when to let her guard down

When teen pianist Ruby bombs an audition, she plans to step away from classical music for the summer. Enter Oscar—a cute, pompous and prodigious YouTube-famous teen musician—and suddenly those plans change.
